

SPOOK THAT SCARED GRANNY INTO HIDING WAS LITTLE BEATRICE

She Didn't Like the Gloomy,
Old House So She Made
Queer Noises.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Oct. 30.—The spook manifestations that have so long disturbed the tranquility of the village of Calverton, nearby, have at last been explained and the aged Mrs. Frances Raynor need no longer hide herself all night in her closet in fear of the strange ghost that has been shattering the silent watches of the night with weird noises.

It developed to-day that Miss Beatrice Steigler, the fourteen-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Raynor, is the spook and that she deliberately terrified her grandmother so that she would not be compelled by her parents to sleep in the Raynor homestead.

Beatrice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steigler of Calverton, and as Mrs. Steigler could not persuade her mother to come and live with her Beatrice has been compelled to spend her evenings in the lonely old house. Beatrice rebelled, but was overruled. Then she planned to locate an active ghost on the premises and make things interesting.

After Beatrice had spent a few nights at the Raynor home her grandmother began to hear strange noises. Bricks were thrown against the house and there was a terrifying knocking on doors and windows. Several nights Mrs. Raynor was so frightened that she locked herself in a closet until daylight.

Neighbors of Mrs. Raynor became alarmed when they heard of these uncanny happenings. Even Beatrice's father was so alarmed that he barricaded his home and loaded up his truck ready for emergencies. As for Beatrice, she feigned hysterical fear and her name was never mentioned as a suspected "spook."

A week ago Sheriff Brush was notified and assigned two deputies, George H. Conklin and A. J. Howell, to guard the Raynor home. They watched for several nights, but did not see or hear anything. But each night after they departed for their homes the noises would begin.

Last night they resumed their watch and to-day they reported that they had caught Miss Beatrice in the act of hurling a rock against the side of the house. She said she did not think it fair for her parents to make her sleep at the home of her grandmother every night when her two elder sisters were permitted to go out with their own families. Beatrice will stay at home hereafter.

STAR'S WIFE A LUXURY JUDGING BY THE BILLS.

Suit Filed Against Mrs. Donald Bridgman Gives Some Idea of the Cost.

The wife of a theatrical star would seem to be an expensive luxury from a suit filed in the Supreme Court to-day against Mrs. Donald Bridgman by Henry Benda, who has a shop at No. 520 Fifth avenue. His complaint charges that in the ten months between Sept. 2, 1911, and July 9 of this year the handsome wife of the "Dancing Don" bought gowns, hats, toilet articles, etc., amounting to $15,000, and that she has refused to settle. Papers were served on Mrs. Bridgman at the Hotel Algonquin in West Forty-fourth street.

With the complaint was filed a long list of items representing purchases by the defendant. One day she bought three hats at $20 a crown and three gowns valued at $25, $35 and $50. A pink gown with ermine trimming cost $25; one black velvet $20, and a second black velvet decorated with chiffon $15. But a "doll's dress complete" cost only $5, and a butterfly $20. One parasol cost $5 and another $15. A collar and cuff set cost $22. Besides there were powder, perfume and toilet waters, the latter at $2.50 a half pint.

Mrs. Bridgman was a society girl before her marriage to the man who first won fame and fortune in "The Merry Widow." Since she has had two or three appearances on the stage in a minor capacity, it was explained that she wanted to be near her husband. Mrs. Bridgman is said to be wealthy in her own right.

The Keynote of Health Is the Liver.

Scientists have definitely learned that the liver is one of the most important organs of the human system. It is the slave which separates the good from the bad, the nutriment from the poison. Allow the liver to become torpid or inactive the poison is sent through the system and disease is the result. First you become bilious and constipated, and later the consequences are more serious. Nobody can live as regular as a clock. In order to enjoy life we subject ourselves to dietary indiscretion. If the proper remedy is then used the trouble is quickly ended. A remedy which comes nearest to the heart of the people is a natural remedy. The natural remedy most widely used is Hunyadi Janos Water, the Natural laxative. Its natural combination of wonderfully effective ingredients, Torpid Liver and Constipation, cleanses the liver, flushes the intestines, purifies the system and is gentle, speedy and sure. Don't take substitutes; they are worthless imitations and may be harmful.

WHY SOIL ONE'S DAINTY DRESSES AND COATS?

"I've stopped using cold cream," declared the young woman who goes in for the latest fashions. "It smears my skin and makes it look greasy."

"What do you use?" asked her friend. "Your complexion looks better than ever."

replied the athletic girl. "I rub it into my face and hands every time I go into the open air, and night and morning as well, and it does wonders in keeping my skin soft and smooth. It makes one feel so fresh and clean, too. I always carry a tube in my caddy bag for possible little injuries when I am playing golf."

At all druggists, in collapsible tubes, 25 cents.

BETTER THAN COLD CREAM, USED THE SAME WAY.
